The Government party favors Prussia while the liberal press sustains France. The Russian government attempted to interfere by persuading the Prussian King to make to England the declaration demanded by France but failed

Work and Wages

From an article furnished to the New York ... by an old contributor to that journal we take the following as showing how workmen who have succeeded in life worked for success.

It was my fortune to enjoy the conversation of the waning hours of the last evening Mr. James Harper spent in his own house. We had been invited to see him that we might aid him in carrying out a philanthropic object. Having disposed of the real purpose of our visit Mr. Harper pleasantly turned his conversation upon the rise and struggles of the laboring classes of the present day. His interest in those who labor by day ... was of the broadest kind and inspired by sympathy almost such as the intelligent parent has for his children

Mr. Harper enlarged upon the general advantages of industry and kept up the conversation until I was ready to depart. With a cordial shake of the hand he gave me what may be justly termed a statement of the experience of his whole life.

No laboring man ever achieved a competency by working eight hours a day and it is not best to be ... how little we can work but how much

By the will of an inscrutable providence these words became the last will and testament of James Harper to the workingmen of the city he so much loved. As a youth he entered the metropolis with no fortune but upright intentions and ... determination by untiring industry to succeed. The apprentice boy in time became a journeyman a master workman the chief magistrate of New York the head of one of the largest printing and publishing establishments in the world

I met Mr. Thurlow Weed a day or two since in the office of one of our leading papers and I alluded to Mr. James Harper and mentioned his views as to the way for a workingman to acquire independence. Mr. Weed reflected a moment and replied. It was most emphatically the rule of James Harper's whole life to study not how little he could work but how much. Mr. Harper and I learned our trade more than 50 years ago of Mr. Seymour then the leading printer of the city. He was our master and was one of the best men God ever made. He resided at No. 46 John street and I lived directly opposite his place of business. James and I were partners. The advantage of having a good partner where you worked ... together at the same press must be apparent. Often after we had done a good day's work James Harper would say, "Thurlow let's break the back of another token"—just break its back. I would generally reluctantly ... to break the back of the token but James would beguile me or laugh at my complaints and ... let me off until the token was completed fair and square. It was a custom with us in Summer to ... a fair half day's work before the other men and boys got their breakfast. James and I would meet by appointment in the gray of the morning and go down to John street. We got the keys of the office by tapping on the window and Mr. Seymour would take it from under his pillow and hand it to one of us through an opening in the ... A journeyman continued Mr. Weed who could do 20 or even 10 per cent more work than usual was always sure of a situation. James Harper ... Kennedy ... longer dead and I made the largest bills in the city. We often earned as ... as $14 each per week, liberal wages when ... remember that good board could be had ... per month

As Mr. Weed uttered these words his ... lit up with the fires that illumined them in his youth ... there was that expression ... at ... what were probably the pleasantest days of his varied and successful life

In alluding to these giants among us let us ask. Does the modern system of labor under the supposed ... toleration of eight hour laws ... and constant strikes ... bring up any representatives from the ranks of ... like the legitimate ... the ... industries as represented by Thurlow Weed, James Harper and their ... self made men ... that now ... the employer and the employee ... We ... uttered ... with deep ... speaking of his master who has been dead ... years as one of the best men ... ever made

It is something for the youth of the ... thrown upon the world with no resources but their hands and brains to figure to themselves James Harper and Thurlow Weed tall ... excellent high ... splendid young men of the best American type shaking off sleep ere dawn and hurrying to their business. Was not this an assurance of their success that they received the key of the workshop in the gray light of the morning?

We are promised another addition to the famous literary puzzle known as the "Junius controversy." The London Athenæum states that there will shortly be given to the world certain evidence of the authorship of the Junius Letters which the descendants of Sir Philip Francis have hitherto withheld from publication at the instigation of prudential motives

The New York World of the 12th inst has this: The ... leads again lead the van. They have reduced board at the Metropolitan Hotel to $4 per day. It is notable that this great hotel keeping family were the last to raise the price of board and have been the first to come down. Their present action is undoubtedly the signal for the beginning of a new era of cheap prices. It may be remarked however that though $4 is good to begin with the old figure of $2 50 would be more to the purpose for a fixed rate

The New York Times observes that "ancient Joe Lane has reappeared on the scene—this time as a candidate for United States Senator from Oregon. Nine years ago he retired from the Senate to the shades of Umpqua in that State. We are told that politically he begins now where he left off then and that he is likely to control considerable strength in the Oregon Legislature. Since he ran for Vice President on the ticket with Breckinridge Lane has hardly been heard from even in the affairs of his own State. If he should now be returned to the Senate, he would find himself a political Rip Van Winkle. All the old issues and ideas which were current when he left, in 1860 are disposed of now and new ones have taken their places. He used to be a profane secessionist; what would he be under the new dispensation?"

The Pursuit of Brown, the Convict.

[From the Salem Statesman]

Reynolds and Leadbetter who have made so energetic a pursuit of Patrick Brown, the escaped convict have returned and abandoned the effort to capture and give quite an interesting sketch of their adventure. They went at first to Stump Station on the Barlow road and found that no such person had passed there; then they returned and traced the convict's progress following him as well as they could but with him having a two weeks start. They concluded that Brown got his shackles off in the mountains and then worked his way through the timber to Oregon City where he found a friend who furnished him with money and clothes and he then worked his way back to Cutting's mill some 14 miles northeast of Oregon City. He came there footsore and used up said he was hunting Billy Stone's place 12 miles from the mill where he wanted to take up land. Billy Stone lives alone, back at the foot of the mountains, and seems to be rather a dubious character. Paying for his ... at ... Agriculture and Manufactures [illegible] of the [illegible] in favor of [illegible] that [illegible] now always [illegible] that the tariff so greatly enhance the price of goods as to carry them up beyond the [illegible] of the people. What [illegible] is that what the country wants is cheap goods and the [illegible] tariff prevents this great want from being supplied.

Now manufactured goods are [illegible] products of labor that [illegible] they [illegible] in another form. If therefore cheap goods be our great want, it is but another way of saying that we want cheap labor. And if we want cheap goods and cheap labor, then in the name of consistency and [illegible] let us encourage Chinese [illegible] for cheap workers to come here to [illegible] to such an extent that will make them cheap enough to satisfy everybody's demand. We might by this process have goods so cheap that even free traders would be satisfied and Democratic demagogues have nothing to complain of on this score.

Or if Chinese cannot come in such numbers as to produce these results, the removal of the tariffs would let in goods produced in China and other cheap labor countries and our own country would be flooded at once with all descriptions of foreign wares and fabrics. They would be cheap too. But other consequences would follow. American manufactures could not compete with these cheap goods without a vast reduction in the wages of labor. Wages in America would either come down to the rates paid in foreign countries, or our manufactures would cease. Then we should enjoy the blessing of cheap goods, but the working classes not receiving more wages than would barely suffice for a poor subsistence, would have no money to buy them. This, it may be supposed, would be the free trade millenium.

A journal published in New York called the Free Trader no doubt supposes it is presenting the argument unanswerably when it advances the following:

> If there were no protective tariffs, the great crops of the country would procure for those who produce them an enormous increase of personal comfort. If our whole surplus crops were carried abroad and there sold, and the proceeds brought back in the shape of goods free of protective duties, we should receive in exchange therefor twice as many blankets, twice as many cloths and twice as much railroad iron as we now get. The great want of the country, increased railroad transportation, would thus be much more cheaply, and therefore much more rapidly supplied.

The theory here set forth ignores all experience. It is totally controverted by facts. The country that contents itself with supplying agricultural products to exchange with other countries for manufactured goods must always be poor, and can never become prosperous. There is a philosophical reason for this. It proceeds on a principle as unerring as any fixed law of nature. For it is an obvious truth that the advantages of capital, machinery and the division of labor, though not unknown in the cultivation of the earth, are far less considerable than those employed in the the production for manufactures. In other words, capital facilitates manufactures more than agriculture. Agricultural machinery has done much to promote and make more profitable the tilling of the soil but its results are as nothing compared with the increase of productive power by the application of machinery, that is, of capital and skill, to the production of manufactures. There is an obvious limit, therefore to the power of capital and skill in increasing the return of agricultural labor, but there is no limit whatever to their influence in increasing the amount of manufacturing production. Hence the country that relies on agriculture alone cannot compete in wealth with the manufacturing country. The latter has the wages of its machinery as well as of the hands of its working people to contribute to its wealth, while the former relies mainly on its manual labor and has not the vast additional profits earned by endless varieties of labor saving machinery.

The policy advocated in the above paragraph from the Free Trader is therefore radically defective. Such a policy would make this country poor and keep it so. Manufacturing industry must be added to agriculture, or there can be no substantial prosperity. And manufacturing industry in our country can be built up only by a national system that will protect us as far as need be against cheap foreign competition. The rapid progress made by Prussia and by other North German States in industry and wealth during the last thirty years has been due largely to a judicious use of the protective system in favor of their own industry. This country can never prosper by selling Great Britain breadstuffs and buying her manufactured goods. Such a policy would give that country all the profits, and make this poor and dependent. It is not an American policy, and our people will not give it their support. The experience of Oregon is an illustration of this subject on a diminished scale. The people of our State have not prospered by devoting themselves wholly to agriculture and importing manufactured goods. The consequence of this policy according to their experience, has been very low prices for agricultural products, and high prices for the manufactured articles they have been forced to buy.

The manner in which Senator Sumner was taken aback by Senator Nye in the debate on the proposition to extend to the Chinese the privilege of naturalization was very ingenious, and withal quite effective. Nye pronounced a studied panegyric on Sumner for his life-long service in behalf of the black man. He was glad to pay this deserved tribute to the Massachusetts Senator. Sumner was pleased and flattered and his countenance expanded into the best of good humored smiles. Finally Nye came to the point by appealing to Sumner to stand by the colored man still and not desert him now when the yellow tide of immigration from Asia threatened to pour in and deprive him of work and wages! Sumner was disgusted, but it was conceded on all sides that Nye had made a good hit.

Democracy is in travail. The party is trying to bring forth a Senator and the labor promises to be severe and protracted. During the last day or two a large number of "doctors" have been here in consultation upon the case. Drs Hendershott, Leavitt, Humason and others have been called to give opinions. The case is one that worries them excessively. All the old ladies of the male sex belonging to the party are in anxious deliberation about it. From present indications there will be many rueful throes before a Senator is born.

It is stated that the Union Pacific Railroad Company have leased one of the slate quarries in the vicinity of Cherryville, Northampton county, Penn., from which they intend to procure slate to roof such portions of their track as require protection from the snow.

The Work of Congress

A capital paper, in reviewing the work of Congress at its last session says that negatively it is as well as positively the body did much better than it was considered likely to do. The reduction of taxes that it has effected is a successful stroke of strategy for the Republican party, as well as a measure of relief for the country. The San Francisco Bulletin thus sums up results:

> We have had the main business of the session —retrenchment, funding and reduction of taxes —well attended to. [illegible] estimated on the tariff reduction will be $[illegible] on the internal taxes $[illegible] in all $90,000,000. The expenditures have been cut down $[illegible] and the Funding bill if successful will save $20,000,000 interest. The Currency bill will distribute the present circulation more equally and will allow of the gradual substitution of a sound paper currency redeemable in specie.
> These are substantial benefits obtained through much clamor and [illegible] and not always in the particular form to please everybody, (if there is any such form attainable) but the result as it stands is a great gain to the country. The burden lifted from our industries in the shape of internal taxes will give them new vigor to meet the exigency which now calls upon us to help feed and clothe Europe in arms. Our balance in trade needs for its true medicament not an increase of our purchases and imports of foreign goods but to augment the exportation of our own products, and if we shall receive in return a considerable share of our foreign held bonds at lower prices under the pressure of war, that will be far better for us than to be exporting bonds as heretofore, to pay for foreign products which we ought to raise ourselves to do without.

Pigtails and Beeswax

The Free Trader treats the Chinese question in style which must cause a general protest among Democrats. That paper of Democratic leanings and belongings proceeds to dispose of the subject in this way:

> About 150,000 people are employed in making boots and shoes about twice as many as all the Chinese arrived in this country during the past twenty years, about five times as many as are now estimated to be in the country, and about twenty times as many as are likely to arrive during the present year. The Chinese themselves are doing everything in their power to stop the importation of those that do arrive, many are wanted at the South. How many are there likely to be to take the place of the shoemakers of Lynn?
> Last year, 12,000 Chinese came to this country, against 360,000 German and Irish. What effect did the latter have on the rates of wages? Don't let our good friends in Massachusetts get too much excited about nothing. The pigtails are not going to do all the bees waxing yet awhile!

The Statesman, as well as the Corvallis Gazette and some other papers, persists strangely in misunderstanding Judge Boise. It says: "As we understand the matter, Judge Boise claims the liberty of differing from some of his party on some points, but still is an earnest Republican." Why should the Statesman so understand the matter? Let it refer again to Judge Boise's letters and then say if it can on what "points" he differs from any sound Republican. It is fortunate, indeed that the Judge has been afforded an opportunity to correct an erroneous impression regarding himself that was very prevalent throughout the State.

FOREIGN NOTES

The Lyman gun made at Reading, Pennsylvania, for the French Government, and which is to throw a ball ten miles, has been satisfactorily tested and has been taken to Europe to be tried there.

The anti vaccinators are grown so strong in England as to hold public meetings, at which distinguished scientific men are present and to petition Parliament to abolish all compulsory laws on the subject.

Berlin is growing more rapidly than any city in Europe. In 1832 it was the eighth in the order of European capitals, its population being 250,000; in 1869 it was the third, only London and Paris its superiors, its population being 800,000.

The English papers protest against the unintelligible Anglo-Indian papers. The Indian Mail, for instance, has this lucid item: "Mr H afterward went out for a walk, and threw himself down a khud. The khansamah at the dawk bungalow promptly got a jampan and sent him to Kalka. On the way he expired."

After the war of 1859, the Austrians altered their tactics to assimilate it to that of the French, and in so doing they contributed to their own defeat in the campaign of 1866. They have since adopted a diametrically opposite system, and now propose to substitute rapid firing for the use of the bayonet, and to train their troops to combats of position.

The probable course of Russia in the European war is a most interesting and important question and if dispatches are trustworthy, it will be settled very soon. That dispatch states that large bodies of troops, 250,000 in all, have been concentrated on the frontier, and are ready to move across the line on the first announcement that Austria proposes to aid France. Such a demonstration would effectually check any desire on the part of the Kaiser to assist Napoleon and would thus free Prussia from all danger of an attack in the rear. But we hear now that Austria inclines more to Prussia than to France.

Saarbruck, or, as the Germans call it Saarbrucken, is a little, but very old town, containing about 9,000 inhabitants, on the right bank of the river Saar, some forty miles southeast of Treves, about twice as far southwest of Coblentz, and 130 miles due south of Cologne. It has no fortifications, and is of no importance save as being the first place in the Prussian Provinces entered by the French army, and as indicating their probable line of advance by the Saar and Moselle to Coblentz, on the Rhine. Of course the Prussians have destroyed the railways and the French will have to trust to "Walker's line," which at the very best will hardly bring them to Coblentz in less than six or eight days, even if the Prussians do not impede their progress by an offer of battle.

CURRENT NOTES

A newly discovered Chinese poem, Li Sio, written 500 years before Christ, is said to prove that the existence of America was known to the Chinese at that time.

Fire crackers are going out of date, notwithstanding the apparent magnitude of the nuisance. The Boston market has in some years disposed of 60,000 boxes, but this year 16,000 were sufficient, and even these were brought over from last year.

A new organization has been started in England, called the "Free Church of England." It is modeled after the plan of the Episcopal Church in the United States, and claims to have for its special object a move against Romanism and Ritualism, which is regarded as of very near kin.

The East India trade with Boston is quite brisk this season. One mercantile firm has four ships discharging there which have recently arrived with valuable cargoes of coffee, pepper, spices, etc. The duties on one article alone brought by one of these vessels will amount to $104,000 in gold.

At the recent fire in Providence the heat was so intense that a large body of coal in one of the bins on Hopkins wharf was ignited and when the supports were burned away the whole burning mass, estimated at a hundred tons, slid into the dock, coverting it into a literal boiling cauldron for some few minutes.

This has generally been thought a pretty free country, but in the United States of Columbia the liberty of the individual seems to be carried to a point of which we have hardly dreamed. In a trial for perjury recently in that happy country the presiding judge decided that "to swear falsely is merely to make use of that liberty of speech guaranteed by the Constitution."

Very significant is the fact that a recent English work on protection just brought out in this country, bears on its title-page the imprint of Chicago. The work in question is written by Sir Edward Sullivan, Bart., and is a powerful argument for "Protection of Native Industry"—its title—based on the evidence furnished by the working of the free trade system in England.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

EASTERN DATES TO JULY 28

BY THE CABLES.

PARIS, July 28.—An American legion is now forming here. It will have a French commander appointed by the Government.

The only reserve steamers of the Compagnie General Transatlantique have been taken by the Government.

LONDON, July 28.—The Times says regarding the secret treaty: Its authenticity is fully established. It is clear that both parties were involved in a conspiracy touching which they should now make a clean breast. A formal communication from the North German Confederation is expected demonstrating the authenticity of the treaty and reciting other similar overtures from the French Emperor.

A dispatch from St Petersburg says the people here are furious because Prussia intercepts English and French newspapers.

The Times fears that Denmark's good understanding with France is caused only by her hatred of Prussia.

BRUSSELS, July 28.—The Berlin correspondent of the Independence Belge says he has seen the original draft of the secret treaty in the archives of the war office at Berlin and certifies to the accuracy of the copy recently printed by the London Times. France has repeatedly demanded this document from Prussia but has been refused. It is now satisfied that its recovery is impossible and assumes a hostile attitude towards Prussia.

LONDON, July 28.—Prussia complains that England furnishes coal and arms to France.

French cruisers are off the Isle of Wight and are said to be boarding all merchantmen.

LIVERPOOL, July 28.—All war demonstrations either in favor of Germany or France are forbidden here.

LONDON, July 28.—A special correspondent writes from Madrid July 25th that the feeling of the Government is generally in favor of France, based on a feeling of satisfaction because Prussia and not Spain was attacked. Republican newspapers denounce this tendency and warn the government that the people will not endure base submission to French alliance under such circumstances. The same sentiment is partly shared by the army.

The order expelling Don Carlos from France was procured through intrigue by Olazaga, and with a humiliating concession. Spanish parties regret war with reference to their domestic interests. Montpensier further hopes that France will be too busy to oppose their candidate. Prim keeps silent and the Republicans are immovable for a Republic.

LONDON, July 28.—Edmond Albert will replace Paradol in the French Academy and possibly as Minister to Washington.

LONDON, July 28.—The Bank of England has just raised the rate of interest to 5 per cent.

Many additional failures were announced. Yesterday there were seven failures at the Stock Exchange, in this city, and at the Cotton Market, Liverpool.

Yesterday was observed quite generally as a day of fasting and prayer at Bremen and Hamburg. Business was nearly entirely suspended.

ST PETERSBURG, July 28.—The Russian force in Poland has been increased to 200,000 men, including the imperial regiments of guards. Stocks firmer.

The Yacht Race.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The yacht Cambria passed Sandy Hook at 3:45 this afternoon, and is winner of the ocean yacht race. The Dauntless also arrived this afternoon. She passed the Hook at 4:55. The time of the Cambria was twenty three days and five hours.

Gen Sheridan sailed for Europe on the Scotia to day.

NEW YORK, July 28.—The result of the international yacht race caused intense excitement here.

Central and South American News.

NEW YORK, July 28.—The Rising Star has arrived from Aspinwall.

Ten lives were lost by the railroad disaster, instead of six.

The difficulties in Bolivia and Peru have been settled.

There have been sharp earthquakes in Lima, but no damage done.

COLORADO

Democratic Nomination—Indian Affairs

DENVER, July 27.—The Democratic Convention nominated Geo W Miller of Denver, Delegate to Congress on the 9th ballot.

Large bands of Utes from Middle and North Park, are in the city to have a talk with Gov McCook. They deny being the perpetrators of the recent murders in North Park, charging them upon the Cheyennes and Arapahoes.

NEW MEXICO.

Discovery of Rich Gold Mines

DENVER (Col.) July 28.—Reports from Elizabethtown, New Mexico, confirm the richness of the mines at Moreno Gulch. At Last Chance nine men cleaned up three pounds in 24 hours. The other claims are all yielding proportionately. The supply of water is abundant. The gold shipments of this Territory for this year will exceed any previous one.

CORINNE, July 28.—Gen Maxwell, Gentile nominee for Delegate to Congress from Utah, speaks at Kelton to morrow evening on the issues of the day.

ARIZONA

Indian Depredations—Mining News

LOS ANGELES, July 28.—Arizona dates are to July 16th.

Last week a man named Smith, from San Diego, was killed by Indians.

The Burro mines are reported prosperous. A mail for Messilla now leaves Tucson on Fridays. Reports say the mines are being industriously worked with good results.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—The Count Pourtales arrived from Switzerland via New York last evening accompanied by the Countess, the daughter of Ben Holladay. On the way they stayed at Salt Lake three or four days and in New York and other points of interest. They go to Oregon by the next steamer.

Wm Barry, a well known printer of this city, died last evening, after a lingering illness. Besides his qualifications as a practical printer, he was also a competent writer on various subjects.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—The North German brig Gazelle, 191 days from Bordeaux, arrived to day. The only German vessels now en route for this port and liable to seizure are the ships Johann Christian from Yokohama; ship Hermann, 101 days from Hamburg; bark Hercules, 59 days from Hamburg; ship Arracan, 25 days from Hamburg; ship Chas Luling, 51 days from Newcastle; ship Caroline, 1[illegible] days from Shields.

Gen Geo P Ihrie is directed to report at Washington by letter. It is rumored that he will be ordered to the Department of the Columbia, headquarters at Portland.

Deputy U S Marshal Love arrived in this city from Santa Cruz to day, having in custody Browder, McKean, Brown, Jones and Martin, charged with unlawfully cutting timber on Government land. They will be examined before U S Commissioner Sawyer.

Only two vessels are now loading wheat at this port for Europe, and no new charters have been made this week.

Private dispatches announce heavy failures on stock exchange in London.

The Cremorne from Liverpool for San Francisco, now 300 days out, has returned again to Rio in distress, where at last dates she was undergoing repairs.

Peter Donohue has presented the San Francisco yacht club with the use of the steamer Sacramento for the coming regatta on the 6th of August.

Chas Fish died suddenly to day at his room in a lodging house on Anthony street. Deceased was about 30 years of age and has resided in this country for a number of years.

The point raised for the defence in the case of Wm Hughes in the Municipal Court, on trial under indictment for stealing a watch, was not whether the previous trial and non agreement of the jury did not place him within the provisions of the law that no person can be twice put in jeopardy of life or liberty for the same offence, as has been telegraphed to other papers, but whether, where the first indictment was defective, alleging the watch taken to have belonged to a person of a different name and the Court instructed the jury to render a pro forma verdict of not guilty without evidence, he could be tried for the same offence under a new indictment correctly drawn. Judge Lake decided that he could be so tried, and defendant was tried and convicted. The case has attracted much attention from the fact that the recent opinion in the Supreme Court contained an intimation which led his counsel to raise the point that defendant had been in jeopardy and consequently could not be tried a second time. It is understood the case will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

A number of leading Californians have written an invitation to Gen Grant to visit the Pacific coast next season. It is stated that the charts now in use between this port and Central America are dangerously inaccurate, and a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held to day to memorialize Prof George Pierce of the U S Coast Survey to recommend a reconnoissance of the entire coast from San Francisco to Panama and a revision of the charts. Resolutions to that effect were unanimously adopted.

The jury disagreed in the great suit of George H Carter et al against J L Baker et al for $[illegible],000 damages for alleged infringement of patent for agricultural implements. The jury stood eleven for plaintiffs to one for defendants. The suit cost an immense sum, and a great number of witnesses, many from long distances, were examined.

Mining Stocks

Stocks this evening were active but lower under continued hammering by the bears. [illegible] shares of Hidden Treasure changed hands, being forced down to the lowest point yet reached, closing at 14. Point 4[illegible] Amador [illegible] Jacket [illegible] Savage, 3[illegible] Curry [illegible] Ophir 12½ Imperial, 39, Norcross 53 Chollar 31½.

Capture of a Notorious Indian outlaw

PLACERVILLE, July 28.—The notorious Indian Whiskey Jack, for whom a reward of $500 is offered by the Governor and Board of Supervisors of this county, was last night arrested by Anderson and Foreman near Kelsey.

Suicide at Chico—Agricultural Fair

CHICO, July 28.—A carpenter named Van Estes committed suicide yesterday by taking morphine.

The Upper Sacramento Agricultural Society's Fair commences September 26th.

Stockton Dispatch

STOCKTON, July 28.—A boy named Sherry was accidentally shot in the foot last night, rendering the amputation of four toes necessary.

An old man named Carathan on Monday last was inveigled into a gulch by some men and robbed.

ASSISTANCE TO IMMIGRANTS.—The Bulletin [illegible] day morning contained the following communication from Dr Loryea, one of the Vice Presidents of the Board of Statistics and Labor Exchange:

BOARD OF STATISTICS, IMMIGRATION AND LABOR EXCHANGE FOR OREGON,
Portland, July 27th 1870.

To the Public:

From all information we have received an immigration of tens of thousands of hardy yeomanry from the other side of the Rocky Mountains will reach Oregon this fall and next spring. A large number who are coming will bring considerable money so as to enable them to purchase such lands as they may select for their future homes; but there will be many who will arrive here almost penniless and it becomes us to see that this class do not suffer. Our worthy Mayor B Goldsmith, Esq, fully appreciating the necessity of instituting proper measures to relieve and assist the needy class of immigrants, has called the attention of our Society to this subject, and with his usual liberality, offers to be one of ten to advance ten thousand dollars each, for the purpose of purchasing Government or other cheap lands, and holding them in reserve for the poor immigrant, thus enabling each one to purchase the same on credit at the actual cost price—tax and expenses only added.

We have taken the liberty to make this proposition public in order to call the attention of our public-spirited citizens to the subject, being convinced that they will join in the liberal offer of Mr Goldsmith and soon subscribe the necessary amount. Truly Yours

A M LORYEA, Vice President.

PASSENGERS FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship Idaho, Bolles Commander, sailed for San Francisco, at [illegible] o'clock last evening. The following is her passenger list: Mrs J Hay, D F Harrington and wife, Joseph Franklin, B Wellman, Capt H Meyer, J H Whittington, W Battams, J Schroder, E McDonald, S W Raveley, J W Gyes, G W Catrell and wife, F A Wait, John Torrence, John Smith, E M Johnson, J Lahm, J Feeney, A J Bram, H Mier and daughter, A S Reed and wife, W A Gaither, A Burgess, Walter [illegible], C H Ohm, J Wilde and wife, R S Pas[illegible], Jas D Fay, J D [illegible]ver, Mrs A O Cabalin, infant and servant, Mrs G Lange and servant, A E Walker and wife, Miss F Cardwell, Miss L C [illegible], Maj J H Dickinson, Master T E North[illegible], Master B F Teal, Master J Teal, Master Ed [illegible], Rev D Rutledge, Stephen M Johnson, [illegible] Taylor, wife and child, Mrs Church and infant, Mrs Wallenstein, John Mancie, Chas Mat[illegible], A Frankenau, Mrs E M Harman, S B Himes [illegible] three children and nurse, A L Buckingham, [illegible] Wood, J F [illegible], C J West, W F & Co's messenger, and eight een in the steerage.

MR. OSTHEIM'S LECTURE.—There was a very fair audience at Philharmonic Hall last evening to hear Mr Ostheim's lecture on "The French Revolution." Very nearly all the persons present were of the most intelligent classes of our citizens, drawn thither by the expectation of hearing an instructive and interesting address, and we cannot say less than that all such expectations were fully realized. Without note or memoranda, the speaker gave a clear, concise and well connected history of the principal events in France in the closing years of the last century, which then rang throughout the civilized world and have since occupied the most important pages of French history. Mr Ostheim's manner of speaking always earnest and sometimes impassioned, was peculiarly adapted to his theme and gave an additional zest to the matter of it. It is rare that any one, no matter how studious in history, has handled before an audience in this city a subject of such weight with the precision and [illegible] exhibited by Mr Ostheim. The lecture would command attention in any audience, however intelligent or [illegible] in history.

BUSINESS.—At this season of the year, especially after the commencement of harvest, business generally slacks up and remains very quiet for a month or six weeks. The draying companies, especially, have little to do and a part of their teams are usually turned out. This year seems to be a notable exception. Freighting business keeps up well, and the draymen have about all they can do. The sales of merchandise for July will probably aggregate a very large per cent greater than in any corresponding previous month. The fact seems to be that the business of the whole community has greatly expanded since last year. Oregon has begun to grow and the indubitable proofs of [illegible] are just beginning to be sensibly felt in all departments of business.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mrs T W Carleton died at the Occidental hotel [illegible] yesterday morning, after an illness [illegible] hours of diptheria. She [illegible] slight illness the day before her [illegible] slightly swollen. She was not [illegible] danger up to the time when she retired Wednesday night. About three o'clock yesterday morning her husband was awakened by her labored breathing and [illegible] found her [illegible] was instantly summoned but [illegible] time to be of any avail. Mrs Carleton had resided here with her husband about a year and had made many warm friends who [illegible] shocked and grieved at her sudden [illegible].

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 29, 1870.

CITY.

DAILY RECORD OF BURGLARIES, ETC.—On Wednesday night an attempt was made to enter the residence of Jos Oppenheimer, at the corner of Second and Lincoln streets. Mr. Oppenheimer, who was sleeping on the lower floor, hearing the noise of some one working at a window, awoke Mr. Samuel Bernheim, who occupied a room up stairs. The latter got up, but had scarcely half dressed when there was a crash of a window sash falling on the floor of the bath room and Mr. B. immediately went down but the fellow had disappeared. A light was struck and the premises examined. It was found that the burglar had put a chisel or similar instrument under the sash to raise it and had pushed the sash in, carrying with it the inside fastening. The kitchen door was found to have been tried with the same instrument, but unsuccessfully. [illegible] says that if the fellow will come again he will provide him with a "free [illegible] all for nothing.

About 11 o'clock the same evening, a burglar attempted to gain admission to the residence of Mr. A. Brannan, on Madison street, through a window. He had raised the window and was in the act of entering when Mrs. Brannan gave an alarm by screaming. The fellow immediately fled, scrambling over the roof of a shed, and jumping into the street. Just at this moment Officers Brannan and [illegible] came running up and one of them fired a pistol shot after the burglar, but without effect, [illegible] like a "scared wolf" and escaped.

About 2 o'clock yesterday morning, a man driving a butcher's cart into town from the slaughter house, below the North Portland Lake, was stopped by three men, one of whom presented a pistol and demanded his valuables. Not finding anything of consequence, the men told him to drive on, and not come that way again or they would blow off the top of his head.

We have heard several other stories of various kinds, which appear to have originated from the general excitement or from some jokist, like he who originated the story of the maid, the eggs and [illegible], which found its way into print yesterday morning. There are altogether too many such stories afloat for the comfort of the [illegible], or the serenity of mind of our nervous [illegible]. [illegible] ought to keep quiet awhile till the serious part of this burglary and footpadding [illegible] over. Let's attend to the funeral first and then the fun and the feasting.

A. M. LORYEA, Vice President.

[illegible] SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship [illegible], Commander, sailed for San Francisco at [illegible] o'clock last evening. The following is her passenger list: Mrs J Hay, D F Harper, [illegible] Joseph Franklin, B Wellman, [illegible] J H Waittington, W Battams, J [illegible], B McDonald, S W Raveley, J W [illegible] Pursell and wife, F A Wait, John [illegible], John Smith, S M Johnson, J Lamm, J [illegible], H Mier and daughter, A S [illegible], W A Galther, A Burgess, Walter [illegible], J Wilde and wife, R S Pas[illegible], [illegible], J D Boyer, Mrs A C Cahalin, [illegible] servant, Mrs G Lange and servant, A [illegible] and wife, Miss E Cardinell, Miss L C [illegible], J H Dickinson, Master T E North[illegible], [illegible] Teal, Master J Teal, Master Ed [illegible], D Kalleige, Stephen M Johnson, [illegible] wife and child, Mrs. Church and infant, [illegible] Wallerstein, John Mancie, Chas Mat[illegible], [illegible] Frankenau, Mrs F M Harlan, S B Himes [illegible] children and nurse, A L Buckingham, [illegible] J Ellis, Col West, W F & Co's messenger, [illegible] eighteen in the steerage.

OSTHEIM'S LECTURE.—There was a very [illegible] at Philharmonic Hall last evening [illegible] Mr. Ostheim's lecture on "The French [illegible]." Very nearly all the persons present were of the most intelligent classes of our [illegible], drawn thither by the expectation of [illegible] instructive and interesting address, [illegible] less than that all such expectations were fully realized. Without note or memorandum he gave a clear, concise and well [illegible] history of the principal events in France [illegible] years of the last century, which [illegible] throughout the civilized world, and [illegible] the most important pages of [illegible]. Mr. Ostheim's manner of speaking is earnest and sometimes impassioned, [illegible] adapted to his theme and gave an [illegible] to the matter of it. It is rare [illegible] no matter how studious in history, [illegible] before an audience in this city, a [illegible] weight, with the precision and [illegible] displayed by Mr. Ostheim. The lecture [illegible] attention in any audience, however [illegible] learned in history.

[illegible].—At this season of the year, especially after the commencement of harvest, business usually slackens and remains very quiet [illegible] month or six weeks. The draying companies have little to do, and a part of [illegible] are usually turned out. This year [illegible] a notable exception. Freighting business keeps up well, and the draymen have about [illegible]. The sales of merchandise for [illegible] probably aggregate a very large per [illegible] than in any corresponding previous [illegible]. The fact seems to be that the business of [illegible] has greatly expanded since [illegible]. Oregon has begun to grow and the influences of it are just beginning to be [illegible] in all departments of business.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mrs. T. W. Carleton died at [illegible] hotel at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, after an illness of only a few hours, of diphtheria. She had complained of slight illness the [illegible], her throat being slightly swollen, [illegible], however, considered as at all in [illegible] at the time when she retired Wednesday night. About three o'clock yesterday morning [illegible] was awakened by her labored [illegible], and arising and striking a light, he [illegible] insensible. Medical aid was instantly [illegible] but unfortunately not in time to be of [illegible]. Mrs. Carleton had resided here, with [illegible] about a year, and had made many [illegible] who are inexpressibly shocked at [illegible] sudden decease.

PERSONAL.—Gov. Ballard and family, late of [illegible], Idaho, arrived in this city Wednesday evening en route for Linn county, their former home. In leaving Idaho, the Governor is [illegible] of many testimonials from the newspapers of all parties, of high respect and esteem. [illegible] proceed this morning with his family to [illegible], where he intends to reside and resume [illegible] practice of medicine. We welcome Gov. Ballard back to his home, and tender our best wishes [illegible] his future success.

HOUSE BURNED.—Yesterday morning a house [illegible] by Mr. H. Kelly, at Kelly's mill two miles [illegible] of East Portland, was burned to the [illegible], with a portion of the household goods. The house was occupied by a Mr. Hamilton. The [illegible], close by, had a narrow escape, the most [illegible] exertions of several workmen being required to save it. The fire originated from a defective flue.

FESTIVAL.—The people of the M. E. Zion Church, colored, will have a festival next Monday evening at their place of worship on Alder [illegible] Carter's building. The proceeds [illegible] for the benefit of the Church.

[illegible] INCENDIARISM.—We are informed [illegible] attempt was made Wednesday night to fire the residence of Judge Page.

STARTLING REPORT OF A MURDER—PROBABLY A HOAX.—The city was startled last evening by a rumor that the body of a murdered man—with three bullet holes in his person—had been discovered by a milkman in the brush, north of the city. Great excitement was created and men congregated in numbers on the streets to talk the horror over and to discuss the necessity of a citizen's organization for the cleaning out of the thieves, burglars and murderers, for such direction the talk generally took. Men who are not usually given to idle talk, nor to taking light views of the fealty of all good citizens to the law, were heard to express decided convictions that the time is very near at hand when private citizens must take the law in hand and give the rogues in our midst a warning lesson—a foretaste of the vengeance which an outraged community can execute when forbearance ceases to be a virtue. The feeling in this direction is getting ominously strong and it needs only the perpetration of some fresh outrage to break out in a storm that will be exceedingly dangerous to the suspicious crew who are now swarming in this city. Late in the evening, Marshal Saunders, who had at once set about tracing the report to its origin, informed us that the whole matter amounted to about this. Mr. Spaulding having come in from King's place spoke of hearing talk out there of a body being found. Mr. Saunders went out to King's and found that the matter had no better foundation than that a man had come along in the morning and inquired if it were true that a murdered man had been found in the brush near the city, or back of the city, the man stating that he had heard such a rumor. From all this it would seem that the whole story had grown from no real foundation into the proportions of a startling and horrible story.

BRIEF MENTION.—The late very warm weather is producing considerable sickness.

A band of tin-horn tooters were out concerting in the northern part of the city Wednesday night, in honor of the marriage of one of their friends.

A French cook, named Calham, who came here about two weeks since to work for Messrs. Lee & McLeod in a new restaurant, has been missing about a week, and it is feared that he has been drowned.

It is reported that the ship Garibaldi will load at this port with grain for Liverpool.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD SURVEYS.—Of the surveying forces under Col. Tilton, Capt. Kidder, with a full party, will start this morning for Olympia. Col. Maxwell, with another party, will leave to-day, also, for some point on Puget Sound, probably beyond Olympia. Major Fife and party are now surveying from Olympia toward the Columbia River. Capt. Smith, with his party, went into camp, yesterday, at East Portland, preparatory to taking the field toward the Columbia gap of the Cascade mountains.

SPECIAL POLICEMEN APPOINTED.—The Marshal has appointed as special policemen, under the authority given by resolution of the Council, Messrs. C. Crich, H. W. Davis, J. S. Allen, P. B. Sinnott and — Miles, and we understand they will at once go upon duty.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—In setting up an item yesterday morning in regard to the beginning of the next term of the Public Schools, a typographical error was made. The term will begin August 15th instead of 18th.

CALIFORNIA AND NEVADA.

Immigrants are coming into the Wallamet valley in such numbers as to cause a rise in the farming lands.

The Yellow Jacket mine produced during the past year $1,779,237, and it took all that and $526,000 of assessments to work it under the management of the stock gamblers.

The new English company were to commence work on the Eberhardt mine, White Pine, on the 1st of July, with a force of 300 men. Treasure City was jubilant over the prospect.

Extensive smelting works for base ore, are shortly to be built at Hamilton, Nev. Ex Governor Mattison, of Illinois, is the projector of the new enterprise. Ground has already been broken and the buildings will be put up immediately.

An ordinance has been passed to print, by the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco, granting to certain parties the right to run a series of "horse" railroads over the steep grades of the city, to be propelled by means of endless ropes and steam engines.

The Mariposa Gazette learns that a streak of lightning struck a portion of the South Dome, in the Yosemite valley, one day last week, and those who had the good fortune to see it at the moment describe the scene as terrific as well as grand. Hundreds of tons of rock were loosened, and sliding and bounding down the side, left in its track a streak of fire, smoke and dust, and the noise therefrom sounding in the canyons like the shooting of heavy artillery.

The San Francisco Board of Education, for the purpose of increasing the pay of some of their favorites to $250 per month, reduced the pay of a large number of lady teachers from $67 50 to $55 per month. We are not prepared to endorse woman suffrage, but if there ever was a good argument to be had in its favor, it lies in this case. Had these over-worked and underpaid women the right to vote and manipulate the Democratic primaries of San Francisco, they would not have been the victims of this shameful injustice.

Eureka, Nevada, seems to be rapidly drawing all the surrounding towns unto itself. A local paper says: Three buildings have been brought from Carlin (100 miles) and erected here by their owners within the last week. Twelve houses have been brought from Hamilton (40 miles) and are now erected here. Four houses have been brought from Treasure City (43 miles). Sixteen houses is all that teams could be obtained to move here from Shermantown during the week (45 miles). Three houses have reached here from Elko (100 miles), and are now inhabited by their owners, happy and contented.

THE TERRITORIES.

Grasshoppers are retarding trains on the Union Pacific Railroad at points between Bear and Green rivers.

A heavy consignment of robes from the vicinity of Fort Ellis, consigned to New York, was seized by the Government order, relative to the shipment of peltries from districts infected with small-pox.

The Mormons of Utah have turned their attention to the production of gloves that rival those of Paris in delicacy and workmanship. The gloves are made from genuine kid, raised in the vicinity of Salt Lake.

Maxwell, the liberal nominee for Delegate to Congress in Utah, was serenaded July 19th at Salt Lake by the Camp Douglas Band. The party adjourned to the Methodist Church, where there were addresses delivered by Hempstead, Maxwell and Judge Hawley. This nomination has the support of the Gentiles and the Godbe faction.

On the 21st inst., at Idaho City, a squad of prisoners confined in the jail at that place, who by some means had obtained firearms, made a break for the gate, in an endeavor to escape. Peter Rush, one of the guards, who attempted to stop them was shot in the thigh. Eight prisoners escaped from the jail, but the citizens armed as quickly as possible, pursued them and recaptured all but one. Considerable firing took place between them and the citizens, and in the conflict two prisoners, Porter and Bradley, were wounded, the latter mortally. The arms used by the convicts were part of a collection sent to the jail at the time of the Holbrook murder, when the officers of the institution feared an attack from the out side.

An Elko dispatch of the 23d inst., states that "Dr. Henry De Groot, a scientist and experienced miner, well known throughout Nevada and California, returned yesterday from an extended exploration of the Snake River gold regions. Dr. De Groot went to Corinne, but learning there that Kelton was the most convenient point on the railroad from which to reach the mines, returned to the latter place, and went thence to Salmon Falls, on Snake river, and followed up the stream ninety miles, to Fort Hall, examining the bars and gulches closely. He met about 400 miners along the river. The gold is found principally in extensive bars which have formed along the river banks, generally pitching toward the water, at a considerable angle, and which are covered with bowlders of an immense size."

The new Democratic organ at Washington, with $100,000 capital, is to be called The Patriot, and edited by Prof. Wilting, of the old Intelligencer, and Mr. Harvey, ex Minister to Portugal.

"SPALDING'S GLUE" mends everything.

The Indiana Republicans are now closing up the payment of a debt of $13,000,000 which the Democracy saddled upon the State while they had possession of its government.

OUR CITIZENS certainly deserve credit for the energy they display to make the Oregon Immigration and Labor Exchange a success and benefit to the State as well as the immigrant coming to our State. Every citizen should give all the aid in their power to help the large number [illegible] coming to our State, and not forget to inform them that Kohn & Fisher, No. 91 Front street, have the largest stock of clothing in Oregon, [illegible] goods are of superior quality and sold at extreme low prices.

FOR Coughs, Colds and Throat disorders, use BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES, having proof of their efficacy by a test of many years. The Troches are highly recommended and prescribed by Physicians. Those exposed to sudden changes should always be supplied with "The Troches" as they give prompt relief.

Owing to the good reputation and popularity of the Troches, many worthless and cheap imitations are offered, which are good for nothing. Be sure to obtain the true "Brown's Bronchial Troches." Sold everywhere.

A Young Wife's Request.—Wife.—Charley, I wish when you come up to-night you'd stop at your druggists and get me a bottle of PLANTATION BITTERS. Be sure and get the genuine.

Charley.—What in the world, Mary, are you going to do with PLANTATION BITTERS?

Wife.—Everybody that I know is in ecstacy over PLANTATION BITTERS, and I am going to try them myself. I am assured by several of my friends that the Bitters will cure my dyspepsia, and at the same time do away with that terrible nausea which you know I am at times subject to. The doctor was in yesterday, and says that all that I want is a tonic, and that PLANTATION BITTERS is the best that can be got.

Charley—It is just the thing, my dear, and it is strange that I had not thought of it before.

Sea Moss Farine from pure Irish Moss, for Blanc Mange, Puddings, Custards, Creams, &c., &c. The cheapest, healthiest and most delicious food in the world.

The Living Machine.

Injure the main spring of a watch, and every portion of the works become disordered. The human stomach is to the human system what that elastic piece of metal is to a chronometer. It influences the action of the other organs and controls, to a certain extent, the whole living machine. The comparison may be carried further, for as the weakness or other imperfections of the main spring is indicated on the face of the time-piece, so also is the weakness or other disorder of the stomach betrayed by the face of the invalid. The complexion is sallow or faded, the eyes are deficient in luster and intelligence, and there is a worn, anxious expression in the whole countenance which tell as plainly as written words could do, that the great nourishing organ whose office it is to minister to the wants of the body, and to sustain and renew all its parts, is not performing its duty. It requires renovating and regulating, and to accomplish this end Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be truly said to be the one thing needful. The broken main spring of a watch may be replaced by a new one, but the stomach can only be repaired and strengthened, and this is one of the objects of the famous vegetable restorative which for eighteen years has been waging a successful contest with dyspepsia in all climates. As a specific for indigestion it stands alone. When the resources of the pharmacopoeia have been exhausted, without, at best, doing more than mitigating the complaint, a course of this wholesome and palatable, yet powerful, stomachic effects a perfect and permanent cure. In all cases of dyspepsia the liver is more or less disordered, and upon this important gland, as well as upon the stomach and bowels, the Bitters act with singular distinctness, regulating and reinvigorating every secretive and assimilating organ on which bodily and mental health depend.

The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

The world-renowned reputation, together with the extensive and increasing demand for DR. HUFELAND'S SWISS BITTERS will at once recommend them to the favorable notice of all connoisseurs and lovers of a GOOD AND HEALTHFUL TONIC AND INVIGORATOR. As a Purifier of the Blood, acting surely yet gently on the secretions of the Liver and Kidneys, they are unsurpassed and a most agreeable drink. ap28tf

DR. PIERCE'S ALT. EXT. OR GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

This is the most thorough blood purifier yet discovered, and Cures all Humors from the worst Scrofula to a common Eruption. Pimples and Blotches on the face, and scaly or rough skin, which are such annoying blemishes to many young persons, yield to the use of a few bottles of this wonderful medicine. From one to eight bottles cure Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Scald Head, Ring Worms, Boils, Scaly Eruptions of the Skin, Scrofula Sores, Ulcers and "Canker" in the Mouth and Stomach. It is a pure medicinal extract of native roots and plants, combining in harmony Nature's most sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick. It is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are languid, sleepless, have nervous apprehensions or fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of weakness, will find convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated and despondent, have frequent Headaches, mouth tastes badly in the morning, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only a part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy. For the cure of Habitual Constipation of the Bowels it is a never failing remedy, and those who have used it for this purpose are loud in its praise. In Bronchial, Throat and Lung Diseases, it has produced many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed. Sold by druggists at $1 00 per bottle. Prepared at the Chemical Laboratory of R. TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

What is Headache?—In nine cases out of ten, the source of headache is not in the brain but in the stomach. Indigestion is the most frequent cause. The digestive organs being disordered they derange the action of the liver, the bowels, the kidneys and the nerves, and the whole secretive and excretive machinery being, as it were, thrown out of gear, the brain suffers. Restore the natural tone of the stomach and bowels with a few doses of TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT, and headache arising from this cause is at once arrested. This delightful preparation is the best remedy for chronic and periodical headache at present known and absolutely invaluable as a stomachic and gentle cathartic.

Increase of Judicial Salaries.

SPEECH OF HON. MATTHEW H. CARPENTER, OF WISCONSIN, IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES, MAY [illegible], 1870.

The amendment to the appropriation bill proposed by the Committee on the Judiciary being under consideration, and the debate being limited to five minutes—

Mr. Carpenter addressed the Senate as follows:

I desire to add a few words to what has been said by the Senator from Oregon. I regret the limit fixed upon this discussion, because I can only refer to subjects which I should like to consider at some length.

The time is coming, and now is, when the salaries for civil service in this country must be increased, or this government must pass practically into the hands of and be administered and controlled by an aristocracy of wealth. It is therefore in the interest of the poor that I plead for an increase of salaries. It is that the poor may not be driven from practical participation in the administration of this government of the people, by the people, for the people, that I desire to see salaries increased. Who is interested in this question of increasing the salaries? We hear the cry, "You must not increase the burdens of the people." Who is interested in the matter? Nobody but the poor men of the country. Look at the Senators who could be named in this body worth their millions. What do they care whether the salary of a Senator is five or ten thousand dollars? The difference would not make a ripple on their bank account. But to the poor man it makes the difference of whether he can hold the place or not hold it. An act of Congress which should provide that no judge should sit on the Supreme bench unless he had a certain income would raise an insurrection in this country, and yet what is the practical difference between such an act and one which fixes the salary so low that a man cannot take the place unless he has a certain income from other sources?

We have had a practical illustration of this matter in the history of the Court, and I call attention to the incident from which all our party troubles in that Court commenced. Judge Curtis, one of the ablest jurists that this country ever produced, but not a man of wealth, was on the bench at $6,000 a year. He could make at the bar in Boston $15,000 a year.

Mr. Nye—More than that.

Mr. Carpenter—Fifteen thousand dollars, even at that time, to start with; and has made all the time since up to forty or fifty thousand dollars. We lost the services of Judge Curtis, and he was succeeded on the bench by a man of opposite political faith, because this Government was too mean to compete with the merchants of Boston for the services of the best lawyer in that city.

Look at England. They are consistent with themselves. Their theory of civil government is that it should be in the hands of an aristocracy of wealth and nobility of blood. How do they manage to secure that end? They will not pay a member of Parliament a shilling. What is the result? The House of Commons to-day is composed of the richest men in England. We have heard a great deal of discussion in that country that has come to us over the water about reform, extending the ballot. What does it amount to? Has the poor man in England any rights whatever with the ballot? What odds does it make whether the nabob sitting in Parliament is voted for by twenty-five hundred or twenty-five thousand poor men? The poor men have no interest in Parliament, they cannot take seats there, because they cannot support themselves after they get there.

Mark the effect of this upon the purity of elections in England. I have here, and regret that I have not time to read from it, one of the Blue Books laid before Parliament last year by a Committee appointed by the House of Commons to investigate the alleged corruptions in municipal and parliamentary elections. The disclosures of bribery, the wholesale, systematic purchase of votes at the polls in these elections are appalling even to an American who has just read about the recent election in New York.

Let me refer to the testimony of the Mayor of Nottingham, who was examined before the committee. He says, speaking of his own city, that in St. Anne's ward there are 600 voters who would require money or would not vote, out of 1,977; in Byron ward, 500 out of 1,330; in St. Mary's ward, 250 out of 639; in Exchange ward, 300 out of 1,008; in Castle ward, 170 out of 677; in Park ward, 100 out 582. He says when the payments of money are small it is the lowest class of people who take it; "but when it gets higher up, then the better class of people take it."

"Question. What sort of sums are usually given at the municipal election?

"Answer. I will give an illustration of two elections in Byron ward, and I have these facts from a party having the entire management of it, and knowing all about it; in 1867, that is, last November but one, an election was tried on purity principles; the poll commenced at nine, and at twelve o'clock one side had polled less than one hundred votes and the other under forty, there being thirteen hundred and thirty voters in the whole ward; at twelve o'clock the forty party offered 3s 6d; this caused a run, and the other side then offered 5s, which won the election. The following November, in the same ward, not more than two hundred had polled at twelve o'clock; 3s 6d was then offered; the place was at once besieged, the price rose to 5s, and at four o'clock nine hundred had polled. The effect of this is that a great many of the respectable voters will not poll at all; they consider that the result of those contests is simply this, that those who give the most money win, and therefore they abstain from voting.

"Question. Have you known larger sums than those given in municipal elections?

"Answer. Yes, in 1864, from peculiar circumstances which caused the contest at that time, it was notorious that in one ward upward of two thousand pounds were spent, but that produced a sort of reaction, and for some time the price was not so very large; but since then the state of things has been gradually getting bad again."

This volume of over six hundred folio pages is filled with similar testimony, showing that votes are openly purchased at every election; that no secret is made of the practice; and that the votes are purchased at regular rates, like merchandise in the market. The poor have no interest in parliamentary elections, they cannot hold seats, and if the rich man wants their support he must pay for it. This is the inevitable tendency of things in a country where no salaries are paid for public service.

There is one branch of the British government which it is intended shall be open to the poor as well as the rich, and be at all times impartial between the high and the low, the rich and the poor, that is, the judiciary. And how is this end secured? By paying to their Judges a higher salary than is paid to such officers by any other nation on earth. The salary of the chief justice is £8,000, about $40,000 per annum. By this means a poor man is made as eligible as a rich man to the judicial office; and England has for a long series of years enjoyed the best judiciary on earth.

See how low salaries work in this country. When General Grant's administration came in he offered the office of Secretary of State to a statesman of the West, of Iowa, a man whom all of us would have been proud to see in that place. How did he look at it? To come to Washington and live as a Secretary of State should live would cost him $15,000 a year, and his salary was $8,000. $7,000 out of pocket each year. If he were to stay with his family in Iowa he could support them on $5,000 and make $15,000. There was $17,000 difference in his bank account. He could not afford to pay that amount to be Secretary of State. Then General Grant goes to the Eastern States and offers the office to a man to whom the $17,000 made no earthly difference, and so your $8,000 paid to the present Secretary of State is thrown away, because he would have taken the office just as quick without the salary as with it.

Sir, let us do one of two things: let us put up the salaries of every office to the point of compensation for the grade of talent and kind of service required, and thus open the doors of civil promotion to the poor as well as the rich, or let us abolish all salaries, and gracefully abandon the government to the rich, excusing ourselves to the world by saying the people would rather be governed by the rich than to pay the expense of self-government. Sir, the people would condemn such philosophy, and spurn those who should assign to them motives so mean and contemptible.

Let me give another instance, to which my friend from Nevada (Mr. Nye) calls my attention. During the war Mr. Stanton was working in the War Office on an average sixteen hours a day, doing an amount of toil, meeting a weight of responsibility which no man on earth ever endured for such a length of time, toil and trouble that broke down his giant constitution and sent him ultimately to the grave, where the representatives of this nation with heavy hearts and with heads bowed down have so recently laid him. All this for $8,000 per annum, less than his house-rent and family expenses. During those same years railroad companies all over the country were paying $10,000 a year to their attorneys. There was not a county in the United States in which the presidents of insurance companies and cashiers of banks were not receiving more than this government paid Stanton for his sixteen hours of labor each day. They went to their banks and their offices at nine o'clock, sat there until three, had a quiet time during the day, and spent their evenings pleasantly with their families elsewhere.

A CENSUS TAKER'S ADVENTURE.—The San Joaquin Republican of July 18th is responsible for the following:

The census takers scare up some odd characters while traveling about the country in the discharge of their official duties. Marshal John S. Daly and his Deputy "Jeems" Aull, while prowling about northern part of the county, a few days ago, found a lady whose shortness of memory will compare favorably with that of Horace Greeley, or any other man. One of the questions asked by the Marshal is, "has there been any deaths in your family during the past year?" When this question was propounded to the lady of the farm house, the following dialogue took place:

Marshal—Has any member of your family died within the past twelve months?

Lady—No, I believe not. Y-e-s, yes there has.

Marshal—Within the last year?

Lady—Yes, I think so, though I'm not sure.

Marshal—Who was it—one of your children?

Lady—No, my husband.

Marshal—Your husband? well, when did he die?

Lady—I don't know—I can't remember.

Marshal—Can you approximate the time? What month was it?

Lady—I have been thinking, but I can't make out the time, and I disremember the month.

Marshal—That is strange. What time in the year did he die?

Lady—I hardly know, but I believe it was in the summer.

Marshal—My good woman you have the shortest memory on record. Do you know in what part of the summer your husband died? Was it in the early part, the middle, or near the close of summer?

Lady—No, I don't remember, only I think it was just after harvest. I was a little unwell myself at the time and did not pay much attention.

The Marshal wrote in his book that the man died sometime after harvest, and saying to the woman he hoped she would remember when her next husband died, bid her good day and went his meandering way.

Punch, in the following "personal" advertisement, explains what has been done to make home endurable:

Annabel L——, return. All has been done to make your home happy. Your troublesome brothers have been sent to a boarding school, your nagging sisters are gone to Aunt Agatha at Hearne Bay, your parents will give up their nap after dinner, all the servants have been changed, the dog has been presented to a friend, a cheval glass has been placed in your bedroom, your dress allowance has been doubled, a pew has been taken at a Ritualist church, there is a new laundress, the tree you disliked has been cut down, you shall be called to breakfast instead of being summoned by the bell, the screeching water-cress man has been run over, and your cousin Horace may call when he likes. So return to the loved home so long adorned by your presence, and to be in future, we hope, adorned by your smiles.

Philadelphia furnishes no public baths for its unwashed population, and even refuses to let the boys bathe in the Delaware river. Large numbers of urchins, who were in pursuit of cleanliness and healthy exercise, have been arrested there.

A Berlin correspondent says that "if you were to hear the Prussians talk, you would think them all Americans in their progression and valor, and like our own countrymen, they believe themselves invincible."

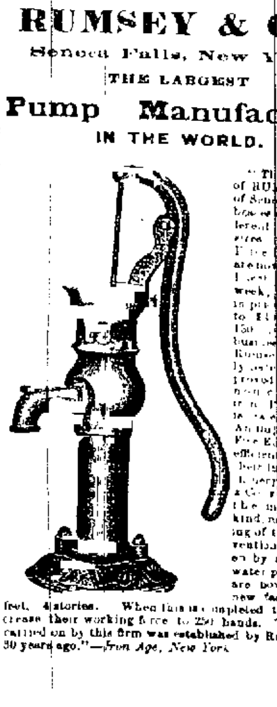
THE LARGEST

Pump Manufactory

IN THE WORLD.



"The Catalogue of RUMSEY & CO., of Seneca Falls, embraces over 200 different styles and sizes of Lift and Force Pumps. They are now turning out 1,500 Pumps per week, which range in price from $3.00 to $150, employing 150 hands in the business. John A. Rumsey's late invention, an improved galvanized bolt corrosive cast iron Pump, which is said to be the best. An improved Hand Fire Engine of great efficiency, is also on their list. The manufactory in Rumsey & Co's Factory is of the most efficient kind, much of it being of their own invention, and is driven by an unfailing water power. They are now building a new factory, 84x42 feet, 4 stories. When this is completed they will increase their working force to 250 hands. The business carried on by this firm was established by Rumsey about 30 years ago."—Iron Age, New York. d14dtf

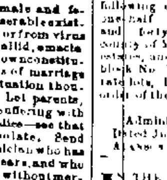
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay obtaining immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who write bogus certificates [illegible] Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. There are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will [illegible] find them [illegible]. Look at the Directory for 1868 and 1869. The only way to avoid imposition [illegible] for, as advertising physicians [illegible] safety in trusting any of them unless you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon [illegible] satisfy persons who may call on him [illegible] his ability to treat diseases that he [illegible] to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. jy8d&wtf

NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!

W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,

Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts [illegible] to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolts or nuts and the shafts are easily and speedily separated. It needs no Gutta Percha or [illegible] to be entirely free from the rattling and noise which so often disturbs [illegible]. The shafts are [illegible] so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is a convenient and secure.

It is easy to change [illegible] or other vehicle with the tongue or shaft [illegible]. We have come to the conclusion to use the new invention ourselves and recommend its use to all users. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

PROPOSALS

For Furnishing and Delivering the Stone required in the construction of the U. S. Custom-House, Post Office &c., to be received at Portland, Oregon.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received [illegible] until M. of the eighth day of August, 1870, for furnishing and delivering at the site of building in Portland, Oregon, all of the cut stone work, including all above the water table, but excluding steps, required for the United States Custom House and Post Office, according to the drawings numbered 17, 18, [illegible] and the terms of this advertisement.

The stone required for the building must be of first quality granite, limestone, sandstone, or other [illegible] stone.

No stone will be considered that has not a [illegible] of uniform color, free from iron or other discoloring substances, and capable of withstanding the action of the elements, and from quarries that have been fully tested by actual use in other buildings.

All of the stones must be of bright and uniform color, free from seams, rifts, or any other defects and perfectly sound in every particular. They must be cut full to square and true, out of wind, sharp and clean at the arrises, and of the dimensions required by the drawings.

If defects are screened or concealed by artificial means or compositions, such stones as are so concealed will be rejected, as will also all stone which has been defaced in boxing or during transportation by rust, grease, or in any other manner.

Each bid must be accompanied by a sample [illegible] inch cube, showing on its sides [illegible] cutting applicable to the quality of the stone [illegible] embraced in the proposition; and the work is to be [illegible] must be fully equal to the sample of the material selected. Delivery will be made at such times and in such quantities as may be required.

The work must be as described herein, and in accordance with the drawings before referred to, and [illegible] include all work and material [illegible] of the cut stone work ready to set.

The work must be done in strict accordance with the elevations and sections, and the bonding [illegible] thorough, to the satisfaction of the [illegible] whether it be distinctly shown on the [illegible]. Lewis holes are not required to be drilled by the contractor, and such lewis holes [illegible] convenience will not be allowed for. The [illegible] trimming necessary to fit the ashlar [illegible] be charged to the contractor, as the work must be perfect, ready to set when delivered.

The ashlar will be back rebated [illegible] window dressings, as shown on the drawings. [illegible] The job must be done to the satisfaction of the Superintendent and the approval of the [illegible] or his agent.

Proposals must be made for the whole of the work, and all bids must be made on the printed form, and accompanied by the bond of two [illegible] in the sum of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars that the [illegible] accept and perform the contract [illegible] bond to be approved by the United States [illegible] or Clerk of the United States Court of the District in which the bidder resides.

The Department reserves the right to reject any or all bids, if it be deemed for the interest of the [illegible] to do so, and any bid that does not [illegible] spect to the requirements of this [illegible] be considered. Plans may be seen and forms of proposals may be procured on application to this office.

Payments to be made monthly, upon delivery [illegible] ceptance of the stone, by the Superintendent [illegible] ten per cent. until the final completion of the contract.

Proposals must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, endorsed "Proposals for Cut Stone Work for Custom House and Post Office and Custom-House, Portland, Oregon," and will be addressed to
